

SEASHELL BINGO

Find a shell that matches the description under each bubble.

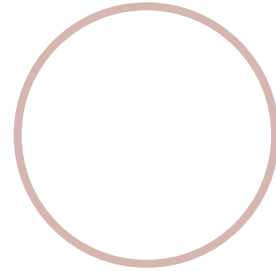

The first player to get three in a row wins!

SHELL THAT HAS RIDGES

SHINY SHELL

SHELL THAT HAS A HOLE IN IT

POINTY SHELL

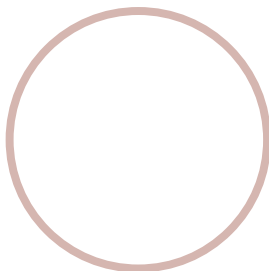

SMOOTH SHELL

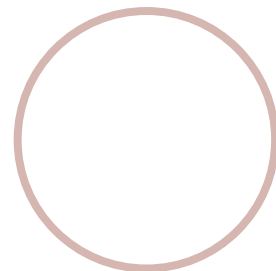

SHELL WITH STRIPES

SHELL THAT OPENS AND CLOSES

SHELL THAT WOULD MAKE A GOOD HOME FOR A CRAB

A WHITE SHELL

EXPLORE FURTHER

Did you know that hermit crabs change into different shells as they grow bigger?

The empty seashells you find on the beach once were home to soft-tissued animals called mollusks. Mollusk shells come in two varieties, gastropods (single-shelled) and bivalves (hinged shells). Did you find more gastropods or bivalves today?